Sew rem sides of body tog, leaving neck open, then stuff firmly. Sew head gusset to head between markers. Sew rem head and trunk seams, leaving cast-on edges open for neck. Stuff firmly and sew to body. Make a pleat in centre of cast-off edge of each ear and sew to head. Join tail seam and sew to body. Embroider eyes.

Reversing the pattern – a few pointers

Some of our knitters have had trouble working out how to reverse the pattern. Here are some suggestions:

- Cast on 6 sts follow pattern until you have 18 sts.
- Next row: K9, cast off 3sts, K6. St st 3 rows across these 6 sts. Cast off.
- Rejoin wool to 9 sts, st st 15 rows. Break off wool leaving 9 sts on spare needle.

Follow rest of pattern as shaping for neck until you have 22 sts. Break off wool. Slip both pieces of knitting on the same needle, with right side facing with the trunk the first piece to be knitted. Rejoin wool to 9 sts for trunk. Knit across 9 sts of trunk, cast on 3 sts and knit across 22 sts of neck. 34 sts. (you should now have the trunk and neck in reverse). Follow rest of pattern but decrease one st at end of next P row.

But you can also do the following;

- Cast on 6 sts follow pattern until you have 18 sts.
- Next row: K9, cast off 3sts, K6. St st 3 rows across these 6 sts. Cast off.
- Rejoin wool to 9 sts, st st 15 rows. Break off wool and make sure you slip 9 sts onto needle with wrong side of work facing. (You can use the needles you are using if you work out which needle will be the right needle to join the pieces with wrong side facing)
- Knit neck piece as instructed until you have 22 stitches, cast on 3 sts at end of P row so you have wrong side of work facing. P across 9 sts for trunk.
- K 1 row, (the trunk being the first part you knit)
- Next row: P to last 2 sts. P2tog. This now is the first of the P row decreases, but at the end of the row rather than at the beginning. Continue to follow pattern.

And finally...

When your elephant is finished please post it to us – or sell it on our behalf. We recommend between £8 and £12 as a guide price. Here's the address to post it to:

Sister Gemma, Skanda Vale Hospice, Saron, Llandysul, SA44 5DY, Wales.

If it's not practical to post us your elephant then you could always sell them locally and donate the proceeds to the hospice: www.skandavalehospice.org/donate

Please contact Sister Gemma: sister.gemma@skandavalehospice.org if you have any questions. Have fun!
